DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1, 2, and 4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by U.S. Publication No. 2002/0070247 (Kageyama).

The Kageyama reference discloses a liquid dispensing device comprising a container 12 with a chamber, a piston 22, means for moving the piston 32, a mouth/housing 14 with a bore and a peripheral rib (see Figure 1), and a barrel 16 with a hub, a passage, and peripheral flange having an inclined surface and engaged with the chamber (see Figure 1).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 3 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kageyama in view of Vasas.

the Kageyama reference discloses a dispensing device as discussed supra, but does not disclose that the container includes a groove which engages the rib of the housing. Instead, the rib engages with a smooth portion of the container. However, attention is directed to the Vasas reference, which discloses a similar dispenser wherein the rib 48 of barrel 30 engages groove 60 of container 12 for an improved snap-fit connection. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to employ a groove on the container of the Kageyama device to engage with the rib of the housing of the Kageyama device in view of the teachings of Vasas for an improved snap-fit connection.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 5-7 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
